Athlete's Heart Transplanted To Carpenter

LONDON — The heart of an athlete who ran every day until the day he died kept up a normal beat yesterday for carpenter Joseph Rizor, the day after a surgical team transplanted it in him.

Doctors at Stanford Medical Center said the next two or three days will be critical for Rizor. His new heart is that of a man who died of a brain hemorrhage after keeping fit by running, bowling, swimming and hiking.

Rizor's heart and blood pressure were reported normal. But doctors said his ailing lungs must adjust to a new heart.

In addition, an Arizona accountant is doing fine after receiving the heart of a young woman in the world's ninth heart transplant.

The tenth heart transplant was performed yesterday in London. Doctors at the National Heart Hospital there report the fourth transplant operation within a week.

The Nation

King Followers Plan Poor People's March

MARKS, Miss. — The Poor People's March on Washington, an infant that grows to grow into a political giant, wrestled with organizational and recruiting problems yesterday.

"We are setting teams to fan out and tell these people what we are trying to do and how they can help," said the Rev. James Bevel, a bearded Southern Christian Leadership Conference spokesman.

The march, brainchild of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, is an attempt to draft the SCLC's technique of provocative but non-violent "constructive tension" onto a push for economic change.

From this small beginning, here in this quiet Delta town, population 2,600, SCLC hopes to develop the campaign into a political movement of the poor, black or white, with the power to prod Congress into action.

"This is no longer a civil rights thing," said Bevel. "This is economic. We intended to force the power structure of this country to divert more energy—and by that I mean money—into getting 40 million Americans into this nation's economic mainstream."

Wide Split Expected in Texas Voting

DALLAS, Tex. — Texans begin deciding today how the state will vote in the Republican and Democratic presidential nominating conventions with the widest split in the GOP instead of the Demos for a change.

In what for Texas is a big political day, citizens also will:

Determine whether former Alabama Gov. George Wallace and his American party get on the state's general election ballot.

Nominate, send into runoff or elect candidates for office from the precincts to the Governor's Mansion and Congress.

Precinct conventions will follow the closing of the polls at 8 p.m. EDT and it is there that the complexion of presidential nominating delegations is determined.

County and state conventions will be held later for final selection, but control of the nominating delegation generally is determined in the precincts.

Democrats are expected to name Gov. John Connally as their favorite son. Republicans probably will name Sen. John Tower of Texas.

But there the unity ends among Republicans. One group, called "the old guard" in Texas, favors Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and after that Richard Nixon.

Civil Liberties Union Takes Morals Case

WASHINGTON — The American Civil Liberties Union said yesterday it has taken the case of a 22-year-old woman who charges she lost her security clearance and Army job on the basis of reports that she was immoral.

"It's an outrageous case," said Lawrence Speiser, director of the ACLU office here. "This woman was coerced into resigning. We're in touch with the Army now about the matter. We'll try to get them to rescind their actions on this case and give the woman a chance for reinstatement."

Carolyn Lea Tatnall of Philadelphia said she resigned April 19 as a photographic technician for the Army Map Service following a 2½-hour Pentagon interrogation about her intimate life and after an Army security officer told her later that he had seven reports of what he called her immorality.

The security officer refused to show her the reports or name the sources, she said, and the next day her boss told her to resign or be fired.

Harold P. Dunning, personnel chief for the Army Map Service, confirmed there had been a "routine background investigation" of Miss Tatnall but denied she was told to resign or be fired.

The State

Health Dept. Warns of Dangers of Poisons

PHILADELPHIA — Poisons kill—and only the public can guard themselves against accidents that take too many lives, particularly children, in Pennsylvania. Last year there were about 50,000 persons poisoned in the Keystone State, with 23 deaths.

The Pennsylvania Department of Health wages an unceasing campaign to remind the public of the dangers of poisons, frequently found in the home and usually in plain sight and unprotected.

Most poisons have antidotes and doctors, summoned promptly, usually can save a life. But there's no serum or vaccine that protects against substances swallowed either unwittingly or deliberately.

Dr. Thomas W. Georges, Jr., state secretary of health, says his department never ceases its educational campaign aimed at telling the public how to protect themselves against poisons.

The main idea is to keep all dangerous substances, even medicines believed innocuous, out of a child's reach. Locking cabinets is an excellent precaution.

"There are also dangerous substances in many household preparations," said Georges. "These preparations are often found under kitchen sinks, and in broom closets."

Judge Postpones Prof's Induction Order

PITTSBURGH — A judge postponed indefinitely yesterday the Army inductions of a professor and a college student who turned in their draft cards to protest the war in Vietnam.

The action by Judge Louis Rosenberg of U.S. District Court clears the way for appellate federal court review for Dr. David Colfax, 31, and David Worstel, 21.

Judge Rosenberg first declared he had no jurisdiction in the case, but later ordered the postponements pending a review by the Third U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

A spokesman for the U.S. Attorney's office said the judge's actions were inconsistent, and said the government will seek Monday to have the induction proceedings rescheduled.

Colfax is a sociology professor at the University of Connecticut and a father of two. Worstel, of suburban McCandless Township, is a full-time student at the University of Chicago.

Both were reclassified 1-A recently and ordered to report for induction by their draft boards here for failure to possess their registration cards, a violation of the draft law.

Each claimed his induction amounted to unconstitutional punishment infringing on their freedom of speech.

U.S., North Vietnam Agree

Paris Chosen for Talk Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced agreement with North Vietnam yesterday to begin preliminary peace talks in Paris May 10 or shortly thereafter.

Johnson immediately coupled his announcement in a nationally televised news conference with a sober warning against expecting that these first direct U.S.-North Vietnamese talks will quickly end the war.

He said, "We hope this agreement on initial contact will prove a step forward and can represent a mutual and a serious movement by all parties toward peace in Southeast Asia."

But the President added: "I must, however, sound a cautionary note. This is only the very first step. There are many, many hazards and difficulties ahead."

Actually, the preliminary sessions are expected only to determine whether there is a mutually acceptable basis for serious peace negotiations.

First public word of a break in the month-old stalemate over a site for the proposed preliminary talks came in a Hanoi broadcast heard by U.S. monitors shortly before Johnson's 10 a.m. DT meeting with newsmen.

It was Johnson's first scheduled, live-televized news conference here since Nov. 17 — but administration officials insisted the President had no secret, advance knowledge of the Hanoi decision on Thursday when he scheduled the conference.

The Hanoi statement followed customary Communist language denouncing the United States for aggression in Vietnam, with announcement of agreement to dispatch a special envoy to Paris.

North Vietnam believes, the broadcast said, "Paris, just as Phnom Penh, Cambodia and Warsaw, Poland, is an appropriate venue for the formal and bilateral talks" with the United States.

"These formal talks will begin on 10 May, 1968 or a few days later."

In the maneuver over a site since the opposing sides first declared their readiness for direct talks April 3, the United States had suggested 15 possible Asian and European capitals while North Vietnam held to Warsaw and Phnom Penh.

Johnson had refused to accept the Communist site choices on grounds that the meeting place should be in neutral territory, with communications facilities for diplomatic dispatches open for press coverage and accessible to representatives of the various governments with interests in the Vietnam war.

Neither side officially proposed Paris. But both were careful not to reject the French capital, either, when French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve d'Urville suggested its availability April 18.

So Paris was available on the diplomatic shelf for North Vietnam's decision and Johnson followed through promptly, saying:

"As all of you know, we have sought a place for these conversations in which all of the parties would receive fair and impartial treatment. France is a country where all parties should expect such treatment."

While French President Charles de Gaulle has criticized U.S. Vietnam policy, France has maintained relations with and kept her capital open to government officials on both the Communist and non-Communist sides. These include the Red Chinese as well as North and South Vietnamese. As a modern city, Paris has up-to-date communications.

Johnson said he first heard of Hanoi's agreement on Paris at 1 a.m. Washington time. It came in a diplomatic message given to the American ambassador at Vientiane, Laos, by the North Vietnamese embassy there a few hours before the Hanoi broadcast.

Celebrities Endorse Candidates

NEW YORK (AP) — Luminaries from television, the stage and movies are signing on for one of the biggest road shows ever — the presidential primaries.

The ranks of campaigners and volunteer workers for the candidates are studied with names that fill theaters. And that's the kind of drawing power the candidates, particularly Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, are looking for.

Paul Newman, Myrna Loy, Garry Moore, Dustin Hoffman and Simon and Garfunkel are on the hustings in Indiana for McCarthy in the May 7 primary.

Celebrities Effective

"When you have a candidate who's not as well known, and there's no money so that you can't buy television time, these people become more and more effective for us," said Barbara Handman, head of the Arts and Letters Committee for McCarthy. "They're well-known drawing cards. Our problem is to make Sen. McCarthy known."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, one of his two Democratic opponents in the Indiana primary, is not bothered by that problem. He has brought in members of his family and some political associates.

Nevertheless, the Kennedy headquarters in Washington has a glittering roster of volunteer workers.

Among them are Warren Beatty, Lauren Bacall, Joey Bishop, Bill Cosby, Tony Curtis, Henry Fonda, Jack Lemmon, Shirley MacLaine, Malina Mercouri, Jack Parr and David Susskind. It takes a full page to list all the names.

Republican Richard M. Nixon also has his show business supporters: Ginger Rogers, John Wayne, Rudy Vallee and Ray Bolger.

And Frank Sinatra reportedly is ready to head a fund-raising show for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in California.

But the longest list of stars and the most active workers belong to Sen. McCarthy.

This is due partly to the work of Mrs. Handman and her committee. She headed similar committees for John F. Kennedy in 1960 and for President Johnson in 1964. She has invaluable contacts, since her husband, Wynn Handman, is co-founder of the American Palace Theater.

McCarthy—"Firm Position"

But it is also due to the fact that McCarthy is the inheritor of many of the fervent followers of the late Adlai Stevenson. "McCarthy" came out and took a firm position on the war in Vietnam," said Eli Wallach.

"I'm not talking about David taking on Goliath—that's press agent gimmickry—but he's the man who expresses discontent with dignity."

Until he left for Rome to make a new movie, Wallach and his wife, Anne Jackson, held poetry readings at fund-raising parties.

These parties are one of the biggest tasks of the celebrities. Myrna Loy raised $20,000 at two such fundations in Philadelphia one Sunday afternoon. "That was quite a day," she said.

'Political Cabaret'

Showpiece for the McCarthy backers is Eugene's, a political cabaret, where guests are asked to make a campaign donation of $5. Patrons may find Elaine May entertaining one night and social critic and cartoonist Jules Feiffer the next.

A Eugene West is due to open soon in Los Angeles.

Campaigning for the candidates is not without hazards, however.

David Susskind, a Kennedy supporter, was booed at a Democratic dinner in New City, N.Y., when he attacked President Johnson. This was before Johnson removed himself from the race.

Similar to Mob

"You could feel the crowd," he said. "They would hiss and they would applaud. One man called it treason and walked out. It was like a lynch mob."

Tony Randall was castigated in the Pennsylvania Legislature after he called Johnson "a lying S.O.B." while campaigning for McCarthy in Philadelphia. This also was before the President withdrew.

Asked about it later, Randall said, "I guess I spoke out of turn."

IT WAS an unnerving sight for the concerned students yesterday who spotted a workman "attacking" the Obelisk with drill and hammer. But fear not. The Obelisk and its legend remains intact. Only a plaque was added to give visitors a little insight into the origin of the structure.

Week in Review

The nations of the world yesterday breathed a collective sigh of relief as the United States and North Vietnam finally agreed to hold preliminary talks starting May 10 in Paris.

President Johnson, however, after making the announcement, warned against premature optimism. The war is far from over. "This is only the very first step," Johnson cautioned. "There are many, many hazards and difficulties ahead."

One of the most imposing roadblocks to peace is the South Vietnamese government. The generals who we have gone to such pains to keep in power are aware that any lasting peace settlement must involve a popularly elected coalition government in South Vietnam, which would leave Thieu and Ky selling balloons on Saigon street corners.

President Thieu Wednesday ordered the arrest of one political leader for promoting a coalition government.

In the Middle East, the Israelis Thursday defied a United Nations resolution and staged a huge military parade through the streets of "liberated" Jerusalem. Earlier in the week, Egyptian President Gamel Abdel Nassar declared that a fourth conflict between the Arab world and Israel is inevitable.

In the nation, Presidential hopefuls Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy prepared for their first direct confrontation in the Indiana primary, scheduled for next Tuesday. Kennedy leads both McCarthy and pro-Johnson favorite son Gov. Roger Braunig by substantial margins in various polls. Kennedy considers the results of the Indiana contest crucial to the campaigns of all three Democratic presidential aspirants.

Meanwhile, moderate Republicans were provided with a morale booster Wednesday as New York Gov. Nelson

Rockefeller officially entered the Presidential race. On Thursday, Rockefeller began his campaign with a rather inane, but dovish, speech on Vietnam. Yesterday, Rocky lashed out against the draft law, calling it "arbitrary and inequitable," and supported the adoption of a lottery system.

In New York, relative calm prevailed at Columbia's Morningside Heights campus after 10 days of violence. On Tuesday, some 1,000 of New York's finest billy-club swingers forcibly evicted about the same number of student demonstrators from five university buildings. Fifteen policemen and 132 students were injured, none seriously, and about 628 students were arrested on trespassing charges.

Yesterday, the campus remained paralyzed after two more clashes between police and students Wednesday and Thursday. University officials hope classes will begin again Monday.

And at Penn State, the week's most earth-shaking event was a proposal, to be introduced to the University Senate on Tuesday, to abolish academic probation. The long-needed bill would replace probation with a "grade point deficiency" system, under which a student would be dropped from the University if his total number of grade points was less than the total number of credits multiplied by two.

Administrators said the rationale for academic probation—that students barred from participating in extra-curricular activities study more—is "nonsense."

Meanwhile, the possibility of a tuition hike beginning next fall loomed large. If the state legislature cuts the University's 1968-69 budget request, as expected, the Administration sees no alternative but to defray extra costs among the students. —M.S.S.

Daily Collegian 'Hot Line' To Air Student Complaints

"Hot Line," a new feature of The Daily Collegian, will begin next week.

The "Hot Line" is intended as a public service feature which will allow the dissatisfied to air complaints and attempt to answer them. Students and faculty are invited to participate in the "Hot Line." Grievances about classes, dormitory or downtown living, or anything for which an answer is sought, may be phoned into the "Hot Line."

Want to know why you've had goulash three days in a row in the dining hall? Call Collegian "Hot Line." Maybe there is a good reason for the plethora of noodles. If not, an unsatisfactory answer for all to see might be the best way to end the indigestion.

"Hot Line" calls will be received every Monday and Wednesday evening from 8 to 11 beginning next week. The special Collegian "Hot Line" number is 865-2881. The answers to Monday night's calls will be printed in the Collegian on Wednesday, and Wednesday's calls will appear Friday.

Letters to the Editor

Seydor: With Axe in Hand

TO THE EDITOR: I heartily suggest you find yourself a new film critic. Mr. Seydor's review of "Elvira Madigan" was utterly devoid of any professional or even amateur sensitivity, something which the film (the review notwithstanding) abounds in.

It was, in fact, so unbelievable that at first glance I thought when he called the film meretricious he must surely have meant meretricious. But, no, his inane comments continue. He calls the story absurd, the events unlikely. But the story is a true one—and who is Mr. Seydor to call it unrealistic. To quote Dostoyevsky, "I have my own idea of reality in art; and what most people will call almost fantastic and an exception sometimes constitutes for me the very essence of reality."

"The ordinariness of events and the conventional view of them is not realism in my opinion but, the very opposite of it."

As if attacking the story were not enough he continues in a sadistic frame of mind to reproach its technical qualities, and here he creates his greatest error. One would have to animate the works of Renoir to find as much beauty in one motion picture.

He compares it with "The Fox" which admittedly has some breathtaking shots, but even here "Madigan" is far superior, in effect, incomparable.

I suggest Mr. Seydor have some second thoughts on this film as he did on "The Fox." Or, perhaps, he would fare better in some other field — like acting. I can just see him in Keir Dullea's role in "The Fox" — with axe in hand.

Suggestion for a Reader

TO THE EDITOR: In answer to Mr. Nardini who complained about the "pervasive" paintings in Pattee, one might argue that obscenity is only seen by obscene people. Instead, I suggest, Joe, that you get — and, it'll do you good.

See what I mean, Joe, the blank stands for "educated."

Stanley Batt '68

Nude Is Artist's Subject

TO THE EDITOR: In response to Mr. Nardini's letter criticizing the painting presently displayed in Pattee Library, I should like to point out that the nude female form has been the artist's subject, and indeed man's favorite subject where aesthetic beauty is concerned for countless years. Greek Sculpture, Hellenistic Sculpture, and Renaissance Sculpture and Painting exhibit myriads of portrayals of both the nude male and nude female forms.

For example, The Doryphore, Aphrodite of Melos, David by Michelangelo, Sleeping Venus, and Le Dejeuner sur l'Herbe by Manet (a very controversial painting in its time), are all classics!

Such outstanding criticism of the art itself or its display in our library is not warranted nor appropriate in our day. During the Victorian Era, like criticism was appropriate, even expected, but today people with such attitudes towards open display of a nude form often find themselves in the psychological clinic; may I refer you to our competent psychological clinic in Burrows Building.

Surely you have scanned the pages of Playboy just once in your life. This makes you a hypocrite too! And as for personal liberty, the people who pose in the nude for art work of any type are exercising their personal liberty to do so just as the rest of us exercise our personal liberty to not do so! Where is the abuse?

Indeed Mr. Nardini, I would suggest you take Art History 100 — and open your mind!!!

RFK: Professional Brother

TO THE EDITOR: Mr. Serrill's apologies (Editorial of May 2) for Senator Kennedy thus far have failed to either reach the point regarding RFK's political and personal faults or to discuss how the "professional brother" is going to solve Vietnam and the Negro problems.

Mr. Serrill appears to be deluded into thinking that RFK's faults lie in the area of opportunism. On the contrary, opportunism is the least of Senator Kennedy's vices. One has but to look into his record as a McCarthyite (Joe not Gene), Labor committee investigator, Attorney General, campaigner, Senator, and now demagogue at large to attain proof of the danger of this man to this nation.

RFK's record as a power-hungry publicity seeker; his illegal use of office for personal gain; his convictions for violation of Fair Campaign Practices codes; his disregard for Civil Liberties; his several near libel suits and more, much more, make him this danger. Who will uncover the Myth?

Further, Mr. Serrill has failed to tell how RFK can and will solve the problems. Instead of vague utterances about "Peace," "Justice" and "Equality" let's hear some concrete answers. It is easy to criticize the present Vietnam policy (as Robert Welch or Gus Hall could testify) and it is easy to say "reconcile the races," but how Mr. Serrill is this to be done? Until you answer this question the endless rhetoric is a waste of every student's reading time.

Cheerleaders and Spirit

TO THE EDITOR: Richie Lucas may have the answer to a new and effective cheering squad ("Cheerleaders: Sis Boom Blah," April 30) but he may be missing the best potential cheerleading material available for the 1968-1969 season. I am afraid that perhaps Richie is overlooking the fact that the people who were juniors on the squad during the 1967-1968 season and who have been subject to his dismissal are exactly the kind of people he would want as cheerleaders.

If he had taken the time to meet these people before and work with them, the value would not have escaped his attention. These are the people who do care about the "spirit problem" here at Penn State but have always been held back by an apathetic group of senior squad members. There is no reason why Richie cannot build a new and effective squad using these enthusiastic and experienced "ex-cheerleaders" as its foundation.

Richie Lucas all of a sudden came out of the blue with his ideas to completely revamp the cheerleading system. This is perfectly fine, but it came at exactly the wrong time. It came at the time when the most enthusiastic bunch of cheerleaders were finally going to reach the senior level and would be able to set a tone of true spirit for the entire squad. If Richie Lucas does not allow all these people back on the squad, the cheerleader's effect on Penn State's enthusiasm will certainly be dulled to say the least.

'Ethics in Politics'

Alphonso Lingus, associate professor of philosophy at the University, will speak on the topic, "The Relevance and Importance of Ethics in Politics," at Monday's meeting of the Faculty Luncheon Club.

The luncheons, open to faculty and their guests, are held weekly in the HUB.

Lingus came to Penn State in the fall of 1966 from Duquesne University. He received the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Lausanne in Belgium.

The Penn State Glee Club will be staging a "walk-sing" through the living areas at 7 p.m. Monday.

'Now!' To Discuss Columbia

A group of Penn State students, a faculty specialist in student activism and a member of the University's administration will discuss student power at 10 p.m. on Monday night on WPSX-TV.

The program, part of the "NOW!" series, will consider the meeting of the events which take place at Columbia University this week.

In addition to a dozen Penn State students, the discussion group will include Richard Braungart, instructor in sociology, and Raymond Murphy, of the Dean of Men's office.

The program will discuss such issues as the student power structure, the rapport among students and administrators and the morality of violence as a means of protest.

Braungart has done extensive research on student activism in American universities and universities and Murphy is involved with the issue at Penn State.

MADAMOISELLE COULMIER, watching a play-within-a-play, is shocked by the actions of the inmates of the asylum of Charenton. All are characters in "Marat-Sade." The University Theatre production ends tonight with its final performance at the Playhouse Theatre.

Collegian Notes

Mrs. Wayne W. Byers has been named dean of student affairs at Mont Alto Campus.

She replaces Jack R. Clarcq, who resigned to accept a similar position in Buffalo, N.Y.

Mrs. Byers joined the staff at Mont Alto Campus as assistant dean of student affairs in 1966.

She served as assistant dean of women, and director of housing and placement at the University of Pittsburgh from 1949 to 1952. Later, she served as a teacher of English at Chambersburg Area Joint School, and before joining the staff at Penn State was school psychologist and guidance counselor for the Shippensburg School System.

The University Chapel and Concert Choirs have been invited to appear with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra next year in a performance of Anton Bruckner's "Te Deum."

Announced by Raymond Brown, associate professor of music and director of the combined choirs, the program is scheduled for April 5 and 6, 1969, at the Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Robert K. Murray, professor of American history and head of the Department of History at the University, was distinguished lecturer last week for the Phi Alpha Theta, history honor society, initiation banquet at Susquehanna University.

Dr. Murray's topic was "History: Everybody's Magica Yardstick."

Weisman Returns

Winston R. Weisman, professor and head of the Department of Art History, has returned from a federally-sponsored lecture tour that took him throughout Italy speaking on the "Origin of the Skyscraper."

Refugee To Lecture On Student Rebellion

"Student Protest Behind the Iron Curtain," a discussion of factors leading up to and directly involved in the recent student rebellions in Eastern Europe, will be presented by Young Americans for Freedom at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Hetzel Union Building.

Monika Flidr, who is giving the lecture, is a refugee from Czechoslovakia. She was an instructor of languages in Prague before she defected to the United States, and, according to Douglas Cooper, chairman of YAF, "is highly qualified to lead a discussion on the topic."

"Student protest movements behind the Iron Curtain are generating world-wide attention," Cooper said. "I think it is wonderful that we have this opportunity to bring about an informed discussion of the topic, inasmuch as the student movements appear to have had considerable effect in bringing about some of the reform movement in Czechoslovakia."

"There also has been pressure applied to the Polish government, though with little apparent effect as of now," Cooper added.

"Especially interesting will be comparisons of the grievances of American students with those of the students behind the Iron Curtain," Cooper said. An open microphone will be provided, and a question and answer period will follow Miss Flidr's lecture.

Miss Flidr is scheduled to meet with several students from Iron Curtain countries before the talk, Cooper said. Stan Sitko, a Polish refugee at the University, will arrange a luncheon meeting for members of YAF to speak with Miss Flidr.

Don Ernsberger, Executive Director of Pennsylvania YAF, said that the group hopes to see students, faculty and townpeople at "what should be a timely and enlightening presentation."

Griffith Chapel Speaker

A. LEONARD GRIFFITH
Religion of the Snake

A. Leonard Griffith, minister of the Deer Park Church of Toronto, Canada, will speak on "The Religion of the Snake" at University Chapel Service Sunday at 11 a.m. in Schwab.

A graduate of McGill University with a bachelor of divinity degree from Queens College and an honorary doctor of divinity degree from United Theological College, Montreal, Griffith has served congregations in Ottawa, Canada, for 11 years and in London, England for six years. He conducted a preaching tour of Australia in 1965 and has travelled widely in Canada, the United States and the British Isles as speaker at ministerial and lay conferences.

Griffith is author of 11 books, including "This Is Living" and "God and His People."

Prior to the morning service, a brass ensemble, directed by Rex Rockwell, will play Bach chorales on the Mall outside Schwab. Music for the morning will also include an anthem by Pablo Casals, "Oh, Remember, Virgin Mother," sung by the Chapel choir directed by Raymond Brown. June Miller will provide organ music, composed by Bach, Ludwig Lenel and Vivaldi, with trumpeters David Stahl and Ned Trautman.

Kennedy Discusses Vietnam, Columbia as Primary Nears

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, with baseball hero Stan Musial at his side, pushed his Indiana presidential primary campaign through the heavily populated northern tier of the state Thursday.

Kennedy is maintaining a heavy schedule of public appearances as the day approaches when he faces Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Gov. Roger D. Branigin in his first test of strength since announcing his candidacy.

Earlier, Kennedy was asked for the first time his opinion of the student rebellion that is shaking Columbia University in New York City.

'Not a Bad Thing'

While he said, "lawlessness or violence cannot be tolerated in this country," and that those who break the law must accept the penalties, he also quoted Thomas Jefferson as saying "a little rebellion is not a bad thing."

While the older generation may criticize the actions of the young, Kennedy said before an Indianapolis realtors' luncheon, "I suppose they can look at us and think of some of the mistakes we made," he said.

"I suppose they can say 'how did we get into Vietnam?'" he asked. "They must wonder, 'how could grownups not be able to settle their problems so that they shoot at each other?'"

Defends College Students

But Kennedy defended the vast majority of college students whom he said, "are very interested in the development of this country and the kind of society we are interested in."

nedy had sharp criticism for the Johnson administration's handling of the nation's economy and urged once more that the war "must be brought to a swift, honorable conclusion so that our economy, which has been so distorted and disturbed by this massive spending abroad can be brought back into balance and so that the urgent work at home can begin."

Penn Staters Give Area Children Assistance

By LINDA CUNNINGHAM
Collegian Staff Writer

Remember the trips to the stores and wandering away from your parents to gaze wide-eyed at the latest toys? The trips to parks and playgrounds? How about those Saturday afternoon movies and the cartoon shows before the main attraction?

Few of us can remember not sharing in these childhood experiences, but the fact remains that there are children in the United States, some in the immediate area, who do not have the opportunity to enjoy these simple things. All that is necessary to remedy this situation is love, dedication and a desire to help children to adjust to society.

Philip J. Parroff (9th-secondary education-Philadelphia) saw the need to help such students and as a result founded the Voluntary Assistance for Children, a group of 15 University students. Parroff had gained experience in this area through work with a similar group in Germany where his father was stationed with the Armed Forces.

Presently, the students are acting as "big brothers" and "big sisters" to a family of seven children ranging in age from 2 to 12 years. Each weekend several of the students visit the children and take the five oldest ones to such places as the University deer farms, dairy farms and the local shopping center.

"These kids are really lively and show a great interest in just about everything,"

David G. Sarvadi (9th-general arts and sciences-Aurora, Ohio), vice president, said. "They really keep us on our toes." "Through these weekend contacts we hope to show them that the little world they live in isn't the only thing there is," Sarvadi added.

The activities of the group are not confined solely to these children alone. The primary objective of VAC is working with the juvenile court in Bellefonte. This involves doing research on cases, preparing files and working with the juveniles themselves. VAC hopes to be able to give juveniles in trouble with the law, the experience and guidance they need to solve their problems.

Varied Backgrounds

Students in VAC come from varied backgrounds and curricula. One of the members is a counselor in a men's dorm, several of the students are members of sororities and most are upperclassmen. The one thing they have in common is their interest in helping children. That is exactly what they do five to six hours a month.

Sarvadi stressed a need for more qualified students to aid the program. He said there is also a need for transportation. The only requirements for membership in the group are an interest in helping children, a cumulative average of 2.25 if the candidate is a student and a desire to work with the group for more than one or two terms.

Those interested in getting further information about the group and its activities should contact either Phil Parroff—865-6986 or Dave Sarvadi—238-3313.

'Based on Brotherhood'

Ukrainian Club To Sponsor Native Dances, Trips, Social

The Penn State Ukrainian Club serves several purposes, according to Wasyl Luciwi, club adviser.

The club's primary function is to cooperate with the University in the advancement of its overall education mission. Luciwi said. It also stimulates an interest in the history and culture of the Ukraine and the contributions of Ukrainian settlers to Pennsylvania.

The club presents a wide variety of programs featuring speakers, exhibitors, symposia and cultural events and encourages the speaking of Ukrainian under conditions of informality, Luciwi explained.

Brotherhood

Luciwi said the club is based on brotherhood. Membership is open to anyone who is affiliated with the University, including townspeople, regardless of their nationality, religion, political affiliation or curriculum. Luciwi said that most of the students here are away from home and are without roots. "They need someone to help them, and this club helps its members as well as other students," he said.

The club also provides a social life for its members. It provides a change of pace from hitting the books and it enables the members to make new friends, Luciwi continued. Some of the social activities are lessons in and lectures on Ukrainian civilization, culture, history, art, folk dancing and folk customs.

The club is now in the process of requesting permission from the University to establish a course in the Ukrainian language. It plans to go on a few trips, sponsor Ukrainian dances and hold a social before the term's end.

Guest Speaker

Future plans include a guest speaker from Harvard, publication of a club almanac and more exhibits. Such exhibits, of which there have been 17 to date, bring parts of other cultures to the American culture, Luciwi said.

The club also hopes to establish a closer relationship with groups such as the French Club and Spanish Club. It will discuss and hopefully improve relationships with these other cultures and exchange speakers with them. "The club's final plan for the immediate future is to sponsor folk music radio broadcasts," Luciwi said.

Lion Nine in Two Tomorrow

DISPLAYING HIS fielding style is Penn State second baseman Ken Barto. Tabbed a good field-no hit infielder before the season, Barto has silenced the critics with his continued fine hitting. He is averaging .405 through the first half of the season.

By DON MCKEE
Assistant Sports Editor

A month ago an unknown pitcher came out of the shadows and grabbed the spotlight. Then he sank back into obscurity and, apparently, oblivion.

Sophomore Bill Miesky made the biggest and most exciting news that Penn State's baseball team has generated this year when he tossed a no-hitter against Gettysburg in his varsity pitching debut.

That was April 4, and in the intervening weeks nothing has been heard of Miesky. The soph has been sidelined with a stiff right shoulder and coach Chuck Medlar has been keeping him out of competition to make sure that he is fully recovered.

At Lafayette, Miesky returned. He entered the game in relief of Denny Lingenfelder and picked up where he had left off against Gettysburg. In an inning and two-thirds Lafayette couldn't get a hit.

Miesky Ready

Now, Miesky is finally ready to make another start. "He had his good stuff down at Lafayette," Medlar said. "It looks like he's fully recovered from the shoulder trouble."

Miesky's presence on the mound could mean a lot to the Lions in tomorrow's doubleheader at 1:30 p.m. It frees both Gary Manderbach and Lingenfelder for duty in the second game and against the powerful Rider Broncos all available pitching will be needed. Rider is the defending District II champion. Although always a team to reckon with, the Broncos are not as strong this season as last. A four-game losing streak in mid-season at one point had them at 7-5.

Since then Rider has ripped off eight straight wins, the last a 5-1 victory over Army, to raise its record to 15-5.

During that streak two men were stellar hurlers for coach Tom Petroff, and they'll both be on the mound tomorrow.

Rider's Best

Lefty Ken Hall leads the Bronco staff with a 0.84 earned run average. His record is 4-1. Backing up Hall is another fine hurler, righthander Tom Moore. He sports a 5-3 record and a 2.82 ERA.

Typically, the Broncos are stocked with tough hitters. Three veterans from the team that finished fifth in last year's NCAA College World Series are leading the squad.

Catcher Glenn Bisbing is batting .348, first baseman John Eickhoff and right fielder Rich Giallalla are both hitting .338.

The Lions have some pretty good hitters too. In fact, two State hitters have better marks than any Bronco. Second baseman

Ken Barto continues his sharp hitting every game, his average now at .405. Left fielder Joe Comforto has been on a hot streak and has raised his average to .378. Jim Allgyer at .333 and Gary Kanaskie at .311 give the Lions four good hitters.

But what has hurt State this season, and left them with a very ordinary 7-8 mark, is lack of hitting with men on base. The Lions went into a scoring famine the fifth game of the season and haven't yet emerged. They've lost six of the last nine contests, and four of those defeats have come by a single run. One more base hit at the right time could have made a big difference in those games.

"We haven't been out of a game this year," Medlar said. "We've hit more balls right at somebody than I can remember." The coach went on to compliment his team's play during the current losing streak. "The guys are hustling and scraping," Medlar said, "but the breaks just aren't going our way."

The chief victims of the bad hitting and fielding breaks have been the pitchers. Miesky has an unblemished record but the others haven't been as lucky. Manderbach's ERA is 0.78 but he lost a game 1-0 in 10 innings when the Lions couldn't score behind him.

No Luck

The biggest victim of bad play and bad breaks has been Lingenfelder. The senior staff leader has a 3-3 mark but could easily be unbeaten. His ERA is a fine 1.26 and he has completed five of six starts.

The righty has struck out 54 batters in 49 2/3 innings while giving up only 13 walks. He got the loss at Lafayette even though he didn't surrender a single earned run.

For the season so far, the three starters plus Allgyer, Frank Spaziani and Bob Absalom, have turned in a staff ERA of 1.60.

Unfortunately for the hurlers, the play has been erratic in the field. The Lions can look terrible one instant and great the next. Except for one inning when two errors allowed three unearned runs the Lions enjoyed a good fielding day at Lafayette.

"Dave Fore caught a good defensive ball game," Medlar said of his senior backstop, "and Featherstone made some good plays at short to get us out of trouble."

But that's the way it's been for the Lions in this bizarre year. Nothing has gone as expected. Perhaps the Lions can do the unexpected and top Rider twice tomorrow. It would be a good way to start the second half of the season.

HURDLE HOPES for Penn State's track team today rest on the shoulders of sophomore Chuck Harvey. State will be going for an upset at Annapolis in an attempt to win its first dual meet of the outdoor season.

Track at Navy

The Penn State track and field squad hasn't won a dual meet yet this year, and if it decides to win one today, it will have to put out quite an effort in Annapolis.

Perennially strong in just about every sport, Navy boasts several of its best athletes in the track events. Which is all the more reason for Lion coach John Lucas to want to win. There is no team I would like to beat more than Navy," he said before leaving for the South.

There are also a few reasons why Lucas thinks this year might be the time for an upset. The Middies already lost two meets, to St. Johns and Maryland. They also won by a mere 19 points indoors at Annapolis over State last winter. With the addition of the spring field events, the result just could be reversed.

Dave Dunbar and Dick Richardson, along with 6-6 Charlie Bradley, will be relied upon in the javelin events, while weight men Jim McWilliams, Roger Kaufmann, Hubie White and Fred Kingston will handle the shot and discus. Victories in those events could be critical to the outcome of the meet.

On the track side, State will have its usual sprinter, Bob Beam, matched against Tom Palkie of Navy. Beam will also anchor the 440 relay team. Other Lion runners hoping for upsets are Bob Kester (in four events), Chuck Harvey (hurdles), Ray Smith (distances) and Steve Calhoun (440).

The freshman squads from both schools will also compete.

Coeds Win in Tennis

The Penn State women's varsity tennis team defeated Lock Haven State College 5-2, Thursday at the Penn State courts. Results in the singles matches were: Homer (PSU) over Campbell 6-2, 6-2; Glaser (PSU) 6-3, 6-8, 6-3; Vlachos (PSU) over Bolt 3-6, 6-3, 6-1; Hopkins (PSU) over Perry 6-3, 6-4, and Carolus (LHS) over Luxton 4-6, 6-4, 10-8.

The Penn State and Lock Haven doubles teams split their winnings, with Roger and Smith of Penn State defeating Shiffer and Robach 6-2, 3-6, 6-2, and Gunnells and Manor of Lock Haven defeating Ferguson and Catlin 6-4, 6-1.

The Players

Members of the Penn State women's varsity tennis team are Nan Butterfield, Joar Catlin, Louise Ferguson, Joyce Glaser, Judy Gould, Marion Homer, Ann Hopkins, Lynne Luxton, Fran Petosky, Sue Rhodes, Mary Lou Rogers, Elaine Rubin, Gail Rubin, Cindy Smith, Jayne Stanco, Colleen Vlachos and Judy Zoble. The team is coached by Miss Patricia Seni. The next home match will be Tuesday, when Penn State will play host to Gettysburg College at 1 p.m. on the varsity courts (south of the Ice Rink). Next Saturday, Wilson College will arrive for a match at 1 p.m., also on the varsity courts. The women's tennis, softball and lacrosse teams will all be active today. The tennis team travels to Ohio for a tri-match with Ohio State University and the University of Dayton. East Stroudsburg will play host to the undefeated lacrosse team, whose season was highlighted by a 12-10 win over Ithaca College April 26.

Hannum Inks Oakland Pact As Coach-VP

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Alex Hannum, who coached two National Basketball Association championship teams and five division winners, signed yesterday to coach the Oakland Oaks who finished a dismal last in the American Association's just-ended first season.

Hannum will be executive vice president and a minority stockholder as well, joining a new trend among professional basketball coaches.

Bill Sharman signed Monday with the new Los Angeles Stars of the ABA as vice president and coach and, he said, has a promise of an opportunity to buy stock.

Ironically for San Francisco owner Frank Meuli, both Hannum and Sharman were Warrior coaches.

What's Wrong At the Plate?

NEW YORK (AP)—A few years ago sports writers were visiting sporting food factories to check on the rabbit in the baseball. The home run explosion, typified by Roger Maris' famous 61 in 1961, had everyone concerned about the fate of the poor pitchers.

It is no news to anyone following the 1968 boxscores that the worm has turned. Managers are moaning, "Can't anybody around here hit any more?"

The New York Yankees went into last night's game at Chicago with a .186 team batting average. No comment is necessary. The White Sox were batting only .200.

In fact, the entire American League averaged an unbelievably low .219. Remember, the American League hit an all-time low last season at .236.

Things are a little better in the National League but not much. The league was averaging .238 before Friday's game, only one point below the all-time low of .239 in 1908. The fact that the Chicago Cubs were hitting .276, even if they were bogged in the second division, kept the figures from being even more embarrassing.

Just a Drop

Approaching the end of the fourth week of the season, the figures disclosed Houston had only seven home runs, the Los Angeles Dodgers but eight and three others had only nine.

National League pitchers had 17 shutouts, compared to 10 at a similar stage last year. The American had 19, compared to 15 a year ago, including Tom Phoebus' no-hitter and Steve Hargan's one-hitter.

The individual averages were even more shocking. Before the start of the season it would have been conceivable, but hardly probable, that these players might have commanded all-star status.

Look at them now:

American League

First base, Norm Cash, Detroit, .105; second base, Dick McAuliffe, Detroit, .197; shortstop, Luis Aparacio, Chicago, .197; third base, Ken Boyer, Chicago, .125; released; outfielders, Tommy Davis, Chicago, .164; Tom Tresh, New York, .158; Jimmie Hall, California, .192; catcher, John Roseboro, Minnesota, .138.

National League

First base, Deron Johnson, Atlanta, .096; second base, Bill Mazerowski, Pittsburgh, .161; shortstop, Gene Alley, Pittsburgh, .197; third base, Clete Boyer, Atlanta, .167; outfielders, Jimmy Wynn, Houston, .169; Tommie Agee, New York, .123; Ron Fairly, Los Angeles, .188; catcher, Randy Hundley, Chicago, .212.

Steeler Tackle Called In Grid Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pittsburgh tackle Fran O'Brien and former Washington quarterback Ralph Guglielmi have been subpoenaed along with 37 other persons, including two gambling figures, to appear Tuesday before a federal grand jury.

The Washington Post said yesterday the investigation is aimed at interstate gambling. It said those summoned have been called merely to give information. There was no indication of irregularities in professional games.

Several of the witnesses, including O'Brien, are restaurant owners.

Records in federal court at Alexandria, Va., listed Guglielmi, television sportscaster William J. McColligan and supper club owner Pete Boinis, captain of the 1960 Maryland football team, as among those subpoenaed.

O'Brien said Thursday night he has been summoned also.

The tackle is a nine-year veteran in the National Football League. He started with Cleveland in 1959, went to Washington the following year and was traded to Pittsburgh prior to last season. He played only four games in 1967.

The grand jury is being convened in suburban Alexandria, where three men were arrested in gambling raids on alleged illegal football betting pools on the New Year's Day college bowl games. The Washington Post said the grand jury investigation was related to those arrests.

Boyer Released, Waits for Call

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ken Boyer is waiting for the telephone to ring.

The veteran infielder, placed on waivers Thursday by the Chicago White Sox, said yesterday that he feels he can help some major league baseball club for the rest of the season.

"It's too late to do anything but play this season," Boyer said in a telephone interview from his home in Hermann, Mo. "But regardless of what happens, I have no regrets. You can't change what has happened."

Boyer said that "Eddie Short (White Sox vice president and general manager) said he would call me Tuesday and let me know the outcome of the waivers. Until then, as I understand it I am not in a position to make a deal for myself."

Reflections About the NBA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The league will be expanded, and newcomers will arrive in the National Basketball Association next season.

Bill Russell and his Boston Celtics own the championship for the ninth time in 20 years after having rallied to whip Philadelphia in the East and then out-slugged Los Angeles for the overall crown.

Some thought Russell or rookie coach Bill Van Breda Kolff of the Lakers might step out after this season but Russell gave no such indication and Van Breda Kolff, who hasn't been enchanted by NBA play, pointed out he has a three-year contract.

Boston whipped Los Angeles 124-109 Thursday night for the winning 4-2 advantage in the best-of-7 final playoff, the sixth time the Celtics have turned back the Lakers in the finale during the playing career of the 33-year-old Russell.

It did mark his first title as coach, Boston having lost to Philadelphia last in the Eastern playoffs.

This year the Celtics surged from a 1-3 game deficit to edge the 76ers 4-3 and then came on to defeat the Lakers as John Havlicek scored 40 points and Bailey Howell 30 in the finale.

Russell draws a salary topping $100,000 annually and was the center of attention after the championship game when he gave no indication he might call it a playing career. It had been rumored earlier that big Bill might quit if Boston failed to do well.

"This is one of the greatest victories of all the championships we've won," Russell declared, "because this Celtic team is not one of the most talented teams that I have been on. Havlicek and Howell made the difference and broke the final game open for us."

Elgin Baylor scored 28 and Jerry West, injured ankle throbbing, added 22 for the losing Lakers.

Golfers Face Navy Today; Freshman Baseball Home

The Penn State golfers try for win number seven on the University Park course as they provide the lone men's varsity sports activity on the regular schedule at home today.

Coach Joe Boyle's linemen battle Navy at 1 p.m. as they prepare for next week's Eastern championships at Princeton.

State (6-2) will go with the regular lineup, which includes Tom Apple (7-1), Jim Geiger (6-2), Bob Hilschman (6-2), Rusty Washburn (5-2), Frank Guise (5-3), Ernie Saniga (5-3) and Don Allen (1-0).

This morning on the same course the Women's Eastern Golf Championships will terminate. The first annual tournament got underway yesterday morning, with Penn State among the 12 schools participating.

Two scrimmages are available for viewing today. The lacrosse squad, with a week off from the regular schedule, play host to the Pittsburgh Lacrosse Club in an exhibition at 2 p.m. Meanwhile, the State football team will engage in its third Saturday intrasquad scrimmage today at 3 p.m. at Beaver Stadium. One more remains before the Blue-White game in two weeks.

Though the varsity baseball team has the day off, their field will be occupied by the freshman squad, who will attempt to extend its record to 3-0 with a win over Behrend Campus of Erie. Game time is 2 p.m.

Pipers Go for ABA Title

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pipers battle the New Orleans Buccaneers tonight for the American Basketball Association's first championship.

The clubs split the first six games of the best-of-7 series with Pittsburgh winning twice in New Orleans and the Bucs winning twice in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, which compiled the best win-loss percentage during the regular season, deked the series for the third time Wednesday night, rallying from behind to win at New Orleans 118-112.

Connie Hawkins, who missed the fifth game here last Saturday with an injured knee, returned to the lineup to spark Pittsburgh's victory with 41 points. Hawkins, who has scored 88 points in the last two games, came out of the sixth game with a black eye and jammed shoulder but will start in the finale.

The winning team tonight will split $19,000 as its share of the final playoffs. The losers will get $12,400.

—Liz Smith, Cosmopolitan

"THE THINKING MAN'S COMEDY OF THE YEAR! Utterly delightful. 'Bedazzled' is bedazzling!"

—Judith Crist, NBC-TV TODAY SHOW

"THE BEST COMEDY AROUND. Peter Cook and Dudley Moore turn in wonderfully sardonic performances in this image shattering bawdy, unprincipled funny funny film. In the hands of these two men 'Bedazzled' rises to satirical heights the likes of which have not been seen."

—David Goldman, CBS Radio

"A FLUFFY AND FUNNY VERSION OF the Faust legend in Mod dress. Bestows a good many rewards."
